Disappointment in Washington that Sparks Was Not Censured By Congress.

Edward McPherson Says the Next House Will Contain 148 Reps. and 137 Dems.

A Party of Poncho Indians Visit Washington and Express a Wish to Remain.

A North Carolina Train Falls Through a Fifty Foot Tree.—Robbery.

Concerning Libelous Publications.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—For some weeks past articles which it is denied are malicious and libelous have been appearing in the New York Dramatic News, attacking private and personal as well as the public character of David Henderson, critic of the Chicago Tribune. These articles became so frequent and flagrant that Henderson consulted an attorney and found that any Association which aided in spreading them was liable to action for spreading libel. He therefore notified Mr. Walsh, manager of the Western News Company that if the paper mentioned contained further allusions to him he would secure indictment under statute, at the same time explaining the case fully. Walsh then telegraphed his agents in the West ordering the suppression of the current number of the paper and at the same time notified the American Company of New York of the situation, suggesting similar action. This case is interesting as it indicates a new and speedy method by which editors and public men who are assailed may secure redress of grievances when other means fail.

Visiting Washington.

Washington, Dec. 23.—The Poncho chiefs who some time ago asked permission to visit Washington arrived yesterday and Secretary Schurz held a council with them in the presence of General George Crook and Messrs. Steikey and Allen, three of the Poncho commissioners. The Poncho chiefs declared unanimously that they desired to remain in the Indian Territory and make a permanent home and to sell their Dakota land and acquire title to their reserve in the Indian Territory. They said further that no sickness had been among them for a year. They were emphatic in declaring that they wanted Mr. Tibbets and other white men who had been trying to get them back to Dakota and thus interfering with their farming and becoming prosperous to let them alone hereafter. They further declared that this was not their own individual opinion but the sentiment of all the people living in the Indian Territory. The chiefs here represent every band in the Poncho tribe.

The Sparks-Weaver Fiasco.

Washington, D. C., December 23.—There is much comment and considerable disappointment in many quarters that Congressmen Sparks and Weaver were allowed to escape the indictment of a formal charge and the Speaker's customary reprimand by a vote which stopped all proceedings against them as soon as they offered a simple apology. The explanation of this leniency may be found, however, in the conscientiousness of many members that they themselves were in no small degree responsible for the disgraceful scenes of yesterday, having encouraged or whetted the heat of controversy between Weaver and Sparks which would undoubtedly have stopped short of its violent culmination had not so many friends stimulated its continuance.

A Victim.

Detroit, Dec. 23.—The Rev. Sam'l B. Carpenter an Episcopal clergyman of Toledo, was the victim of an audacious robbery on the Lake Shore train last night. As the cars were about to stop at Monroe a gentlemanly looking man enquired the time. As the reverent took out his watch it was grabbed by the thief and at the same time two other confederates seized the clergyman and bent him back of the seat and hurriedly rifled his pockets and secured $80 and jumped from the cars before the remaining passengers had time to recover from their astonishment. The watch was worth $250.

Indian News.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 23.—Dr. McGillrudy, the Indian agent at Pine Ridge Agency who passed through here this evening reports all quiet among the Red Clouds and that forty-six of Sitting Bull's Indians surrendered at the agency last Saturday and about 1,000 more are coming in in small squads. Sitting Bull wants to surrender and has only about 200 who are on foot and needy.

Concession.

City of Mexico, Dec. 23.—Sullivan received a railroad concession from the state of Morelia. The concession is for the Patzcuero, Morelia.

Railway Wreck.

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 23.—A fearful accident occurred on the Carolina Central railroad, three miles beyond Lincolnton yesterday evening the entire passenger train, excepting the engine which passed over safely and went through a trestle at this place which is 50 feet high. Four passengers cannot be located but it is known that the mail agent David Blaine and a passenger J. Goodson, disabled by accident were subsequently burnt up in flames, which communicated from the stoves used in the road, to shutter and cars which were piled one on another in the chasm.

Eads Expedition.

City of Mexico, Dec. 23.—The Executive ordered two engine rs, three officers of staff and one physician to accompany Capt. Eads on his surveying tour over the isthmus. The expenses of the commissioners are to be paid by the Government. The Gazeta Del Limes publishes a letter addressed to the French minister complaining of the prolonged imprisonment of Gen. Cortina and intimating that he is confined because the United States would consider it "casus belli" if he was set free.

The Sioux Visit.

Washington, Dec. 23.—A delegation of twelve Sioux Indian chiefs and the head men from the lower Brule agency reached here last night in charge of Capt. Dougherty, U. S. A. agent for the Crows. Their business here is to conduct negotiations with several lines of railroads relative to granting the right of way through their reservations. They will also confer with the delegation from the Cheyenne agency who came last week on similar business. To-day with Schurz they called at the White House to visit the president who was introduced and shook hands with all.

Makeup of the Next House.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Edward McPherson, secretary of the republican congressional committee and ex-clerk of the House of Representatives and probably the best informed man in Washington as to the makeup of the next House to-day figures as follows: Republicans, 148; Regular Democrats, 135; Readjusters, 2; Greenbackers, 8; Total, 293. In the estimate of 148 for the Republicans McPherson counts one from New Hampshire yet to be elected to succeed Farr.

Fighting Fiddlers.

Omaha, Neb. Dec. 23.—One week ago in Willard precinct, this county, two young men, both Violinists, quarreled at a ball about their musical ability and one of them assaulted the other with some instrument about the head, pounding him till insensible. The victim is now in a dying condition and will probably die to-morrow. His murderer was arrested this evening and lodged in the Omaha jail without bail.

Have Agreed.

Vienna, Dec. 23.—Austria, France and Germany have agreed to the arbitration proposed on Condebon that all the powers give their assent, that Turkey and Greece shall previously sign only their acceptance of the decision of the power and that for the adopted resolutions by the powers, a simple majority shall be sufficient.

Wool Market.

Boston, Dec. 23.—The wool market is unchanged. The demand is steady and the prices well sustained. There is a disposition to bear down the fine fleeces a little but without much success. California wool is in demand at 25 to 36 cents for spring and 18 to 32 cents for fall.

Found Indictment.

City of Mexico, Dec. 23.—The high Supreme court has found an indictment against Gov. Teran of Vera Cruz for the unauthorized execution of one of the insurgents of June 25. It was rumored that Teran under false name had embarked on an American steamer but the report needs confirmation.

Row With Gamblers.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 23.—Three gamblers were compelled by victims at Darbyville to refund their winnings. They came to this city and obtained warrants and a Sheriff's posse to serve them. In the fight which followed one of the gamblers was shot dead. Four of the citizen's party were arrested.

Confessed.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 23.—A dispatch from Platanet says David Provost confessed to having murdered Pierre Brunet last September. The Provost says Damas Brunet, son of Pierre, first broached the matter to him and stood by while his father was choked to death. Provost was arrested.

and Meeting.

London, Dec. 23.—The land meeting at Derry Goadly was held yesterday as announced and was protected by a strong force of police and infantry. The opposition on the part of the Orangemen was abandoned, but some fighting occurred after the meeting.

Completed Its Labor.

San Francisco, Dec. 23.—A Portland dispatch says: The special Corum appointed by the board of trade to draft a suitable memorial to Congress asking for early and favorable legislation in relation to the improvement of the lower Columbia river has completed its labor.

TEARING TIMES.

Two Shooting Scrapes in San Marcial.

Tuesday was a sort of gala day at San Marcial, crowds of railroad men being up from the front and considerable whisky was consumed. The town was very lively but not so lively as when Frank Moody, a government teamster came upon the scene. Moody had been imbibing rather freely and was on a regular tear when he came into the street about noon and swaggered along, swinging his six-shooter and making many threats. His drunken condition led many to believe that he might carry these threats into execution, and they naturally gave him a wide berth. After having absolute right of way for a short time, Marshal Franklin thought it about time that this street parade should come to an end. Coming up before the teamster he endeavored to take his shooting iron from him, but the fellow was hard to manage and held it behind him out of reach of the marshal.

E. J. White a big fellow with a wooden leg came to the assistance of Franklin. Going up behind the drunken man he caught hold of his arms and was about to wrest from him his gun, when, either accidentally or purposely it was discharged. The ball entered White's right leg and severed the main artery of a branch, thus depriving him the use of the old good pin on which he stood.

Dr. M. E. Munger was called to the assistance of the wounded man and succeeded, with considerable difficulty, in staunching the blood.

Goody was promptly arrested and shackled and chained to a telegraph pole where he remained the rest of the day and at night was taken to Socorro to await his trial.

POLICEMAN'S BENDER.

Even some of the policemen shared in the general bout and one of them Charlie Walker got on a bender. Just at evening he rushed out into the street with a whoop, with a revolver in each hand, crying "turn 'em loose" and challenging the whole town to fight. Walker is a one-eyed man but he kept that carefully peeled and snored around in such a free manner that he drove every body in doors. Again whisky monarchy prevailed on the terminus's boulevard, and the sign "no thoroughfare" was blazoned on the policeman's single eye. Again Marshal Franklin stepped into the breach and tried to quiet him down, but he found a hard man to deal with. After some struggling he succeeded in knocking down one of Walker's six-shooters, when it was discharged. The ball cut the third toe of Franklin's right foot, and this put an end to the circus. We did not learn whether Walker had been arrested or not, but he was not till the next day at any rate, as he spent a part of the night in the dance hall.

The Grotto To-night.

The ladies of the M. E. Church were busily engaged all day yesterday preparing the grotto for the reception of the Christmas present to-night. This is a beautiful work and will show to good advantage. All those desiring to give presents to their families, through the medium of the grotto are requested, by the committee, to send them to the church by 12 o'clock to-day.
